

A special offer for AAOMS Members

The Journal of Medical Practice Management at a 10% discount

Other clinical journals address the art and science of medicine but The Journal of Medical Practice Management gets down to business. Today's physicians face a new economic landscape. To thrive economically – or even to survive, physicians need the professional tools delivered in the Journal. Published by Greenbranch Publishing, we believe you will benefit from this indispensable guide to fiscal management, marketing, malpractice, human resources, coding, information technology, office operations – and everything in between.
