Sunday – Friday, October 14-19, 2012

The LSU OMS Review Course is a live educational activity designed specifically for oral surgery practitioners and residents who desire a comprehensive review that focuses on all phases of oral and maxillofacial surgery and advanced cosmetic maxillofacial surgery. It emphasizes critical areas of surgery with scientific support and prepares surgeons and residents for specialty examinations. All lectures stress the techniques used and the scientific justifications for those techniques. This educational activity was developed based on previous course evaluations, input from course leadership, advisory committee input, and a review of current issues and needs in the fields of oral and maxillofacial surgery and cosmetic maxillofacial surgery.

At the conclusion of this comprehensive, six-day activity, participants should be able to identify, define, understand, and discuss the following areas of OMS and cosmetic maxillofacial surgery: preprosthetic surgery; dental implants; distraction osteogenesis principles; the medical risk patient; TMJ; mandibular and maxillary fractures; facial skin rejuvenation; dentofacial deformities; oral and maxillofacial infectious diseases; dentoalveolar surgery; maxillary and mandibular reconstruction; blepharoplasty and upper and lower facial rejuvenation; rhinoplasty and otoplasty; the trauma patient; soft tissue injuries; obstructive sleep apnea; craniofacial syndromes; anesthesia; orthognathic/cosmetic surgery; the cleft lip and palate patient; and oral, head and neck pathology.
